

Scooby Doo and the Robotic Rat Robots
By Anna H. – Grade 2

"Hey Scoob, want a part of my sandwich?" Shaggy asked.

"Rokay," Scooby answered drooling.

"It's salami," said Shaggy. He threw him a piece. Scooby gobbled it up.

"Meanwhile, I'll cook dinner honey," a man said.

"Okay," a woman's answered. The man turned on the faucet. Water came pouring off the sink. The man ran outside. The fire department came, stopped the sink and got everybody out of the house. After the water flooded, they found a rubber robotic mouse.

"Let's watch the Food Channel Scoob," Shaggy said turning on the TV.

"We interrupt this program with this squeaking report. A house just flooded on 14th Avenue.

"We found a robotic mouse in the sink," a voice said from the TV.

"Cool! A robotic mouse!" Shaggy said.

"It's a robotic mouse," Velma answered.

"Let's go check it out," said Daphne. They passed a woman with torn clothes. They stopped to say hello.

"Hi, my name is Daphne and these are my friends Velma, Fred, Shaggy, and of course Scooby," said Daphne.

"I'm Jessica," said the woman that was homeless. The gang each gave her a dollar and then left. They go to the crime scent. They found samples of hair and mice prints.

"I wonder," Fred thought, "If the mouse was clogging up the sink. Maybe, just maybe, the rats came from the sewer."

"Yeah, but why would a rat want to clog up a sink?" Velma asked.

"We're hungry. Can we like go get lunch? It's calling us," Shaggy said. Shaggy and Scooby went off to get lunch while the rest of the gang thought about why a rat would do such a thing. Then they heard a noise. Ding! Ding! Ding! Everyone got under the table. Just then a giant rat burst into the room. It saw the dinner cooking and grabbed it. Then Shaggy and Scooby entered.

"Hi guys! We brought leftovers....WHAT IS THAT?" Shaggy asked with amazement.

"It's the giant rat," Daphne said screaming.

"AHH!" the gang screamed. It put on earmuffs and went away. They called the police. Then they went home to sleep. The next day they went down the sewer to see the rat.

"Velma I'm like scared," Shaggy said.

"Re roo," Scooby replied.

"Just turn on your flashlight," Velma said. "It doesn't have like power," Shaggy answered.

"Don't tell me that!" Fred said. Suddenly they walked across a laser beam and a lot of robotic mice came running with knives. They were inside the rat's home. They heard it sleeping. Then the girls jumped on a trampoline all the way up to the ceiling. Then they clung their feet to a hole.

"Boy, those girls can jump," Shaggy said while the girl let down a rope.

"Not now Shaggy. They are trying to scare us," Fred said while climbing the rope.

"Shaggy come on," Velma said.

"What about like Scoob?" Shaggy answered.

"Tie the rope around him and hold on," Daphne said helping Fred out of the hole. Shaggy tied it. The girls and Fred pulled them up just in time. The police came and sent them back down to get the rat. When they came back up with it they pulled the head off.

"Jessica but...!" Velma said.

"I did it so I can get some food," Jessica continued.

"Well let's have a feast!" Fred answered.